Dear Mr Lombard,

I thank you so much for sending me a sample of Icynene. It looks a very interesting product: from a technical point of view it seems very easy to use and, unlike other foams, such as the hyper-toxic Styrofoam, I could not perceive any outgassing from Icynene.

So, my personal testing seems to match the results of your lab tests and I decided to include Icynene in the list of our recommending products for people with Multiple Chemical Sensitivity in the “AMICA Guide”, a book with tips and products that we give to our members.

Kind Regards.
